

Food Finding Exercise

What foods can you find that pollinators helped to make? Look through your kitchen to identify foods that required pollination.

This can include fresh fruits and vegetables, nuts, and honey. This might also include processed foods. Look on the labels of cans, boxes, and frozen packages for ingredients that required pollination.

Extender Activity:

Cook a recipe using only ingredients that pollinators helped to make.

