

PLANT STORIES

Do you have a plant that's important to you, your family, or your heritage? Do you have a personal connection to a particular plant?

Check out Salt Tree Art's Wind and Waves seed story project, and listen to the selected stories available on the site for some examples:

Write or record your own story.

Extender Activity:

Collect additional stories from your family members or anyone else you would like to interview. How do all of your collected stories overlap or differ? What are the similarities and differences between the plants from these stories?
