

Plant Community Collage

Create a picture or sculpture of at least four different plants. These can be drawings you make, they can be photographs cut from old magazines, or they can even be built from materials you find around your house or outside. Put all of these pictures or sculptures together into one "plant community."

Tell us about your plant community. How do your plants interact with each other? Do some grow underneath others? Do they need different amounts of sunlight or shade?

What pollinators does your plant community attract? What characteristics of your plants might attract different pollinators?
