

Mushroom Mimics

Human design is sometimes inspired by what we see in nature. We sometimes borrow shapes, movements, or functions (like the way things work).

Try to find objects in your house that resemble mushrooms. They might have a mushroom shape (like a lamp or an umbrella), or they might function like mushrooms (like wires that help communication).

List the objects you find and how they are similar to mushrooms.

